

THE EAGLE

When God made the oyster, he guaranteed him absolute economical and social security.

He built the oyster a house, a shell, to protect him from his enemies.

When hungry, the oyster simply opens his shell and food rushes in for him.

He has no worries. He doesn't fight anybody.

He's not going anywhere.

But,

when God made the eagle,

He gave him the sky as a domain.

The eagle then nested on the highest crag, where the storms threaten every day.

For food he flies through miles of rain, snow, sleet and wind.

He screams his defiance at the elements, and goes about his own business, building his own life.

When aroused, he's a vicious foe for his enemies.

The eagle, not the oyster,

is the emblem of America!
